Ferret Boxes

Lightweight ferret boxes made from quality ply. Glued and pinned with quality catches.

4 corners on all Wiltshire ferret boxes, 2 corners on Norfolk ferret boxes.

50mm nylon webbing carrying strap.

Galvanised mesh on the inside of vent holes.

I am a full time Pest and Rabbit Controller, and have been controlling rabbits for the last 45 years.

As I am quite good with my hands I have always made equipment for myself, other people have always wanted me to make things for them once they have seen mine.

This is why I started Master Hunter. There is obviously a need for better quality rabbiting equipment made by somebody who actually uses and understands their product.

Although I developed the Fast Set long net system approximately 18 years ago only myself and my friends were using it, until I told other people about it, and they brought out their own systems.

After trying the other systems available I would not swap any of them for mine. I still think that my system is a superior, lightweight, smooth functioning and ergonomically designed system that can be used day and night with ease.

The Fast Set System

100 yds 6Z Fast Set system weights 7 kilo
12 poles to 100yd net

Poles are 40" high, light weight tensile steel tube, tapering from 5/16 → 5/8 with stainless steel points. Powder coated painted with rubber ferrules on top enabling poles to be pushed into the ground easily. Bottom line is attached 6" from the bottom of each pole (can be easily adjusted where necessary). When set, the top line of netting between any two poles is approx 24" from ground.

Mesh size is 2 "1/8 knot to knot. Double knotted. Selvedge is doubled. The net is 14½ mesh's deep.

100yd set net is made up with approx 200yds of net, this gives the net 100% of bag / loose mesh, and this enables at least 4 rabbits to be entangled in any one section of net.

Lines are 2mm braided polypropylene. This allows the net to slide freely. Frame is fabricated from 6mm tensile rod then nylon coated. Bag is made from waterproof lightweight DPM nylon coated material. It takes approximately 2 minutes to set 100yds of net and approximately 5 minutes to pick up.

The net runs freely from the bag, as there are no snagging parts on the frame. Poles are superior to fibre glass as they have a constant taper with stainless points, and push into the ground with ease.

We also sell Traditional Long Nets and Sheet Netting.
